FRANKFURT AIRPORT MARRIOTT HOTEL AND SHERATON FRANKFURT AIRPORT HOTEL & CONFERENCE CENTER AMPLIFY THEIR F&B OFFERING AS THEY UNVEIL THE EATERY KITCHEN AND BAR

FOLLOWING EXTENSIVE RENOVATIONS, MARRIOTT INTERNATIONAL'S FIRST DUAL PREMIUM-BRAND HOTEL IN EUROPE OPERATES AT FRANKFURT AIRPORT – ELEVATING THE AIRPORT HOTEL EXPERIENCE WITH A DISTINCT CULINARY EXPERIENCE

(May 2022) Frankfurt Airport Marriott Hotel and Sheraton Frankfurt Airport Hotel & Conference Center have unveiled The Eatery kitchen and bar, a dynamic new dining destination, as well as updated interiors for several of the hotels' F&B outlets, creating distinct culinary moments for guests and travellers. The Eatery kitchen and bar, a new venue, complements an on-going three-year renovation project that started in 2019 and is located in the heart of Frankfurt Airport Marriott Hotel (open since 2020) and Sheraton Frankfurt Airport Hotel & Conference Center which form the first Europe Marriott dual-brand hotel operating two Marriott International premium brands, Marriott & Sheraton, under one roof.

The Eatery kitchen and bar is a brand-new, light-filled atrium area that sits at the heart of the dual-brand hotel, which is directly connected to Terminal 1 of Frankfurt International Airport. Open and bright, the sophisticated atrium space is the perfect place to meet, work or relax, at any time of the day in a convivial setting. The menu, with a concept formed around “From AM to PM”, explores culinary diversity, featuring dishes such as juicy rump steak and classics such as Caesar Salad and the Marriott Signature Burger. For those needing a pick-me-up,

“We Proudly Serve Starbucks®” coffee which is carefully brewed by expert barista. Guests can either take a seat directly at the bar or at one of the many tables and seating corners around the bar, offering space for 150 people. Incorporating a grab-and-go counter, most dishes are also available to takeaway, and a carefully selected series of packaging made out of recycled or reused materials is used in an effort to cut waste.

Designed and conceptualized by British interior design studio B3 Designers, the Eatery kitchen and bar sits under a skylight with a central bar that has been designed for flexibility. The bar is zoned out into the grab-and-go section, with a small show kitchen at its core, and a sit-down bar area for 30 guests. The dark ceiling contrasts brilliantly with the bright tones in the rest of the space. Showcasing some unusual design elements, the bar’s design has a surface-mounted imposing brass gantry around its perimeter which acts as storage for the bar itself, and also crucially, as a structure for lighting to be integrated. The bar is fronted by large porcelain tiles in vibrant turquoise, while the counter is topped with white quartz. The display vitrines are sunk into the counter, allowing for an uninterrupted view of the rest of the bar, and a more personal connection between guests and staff. Separate from the bar area is the laid-back sports area with textured vinyl cladding walls for repeat-colour effect. The adjacent lounge area is designed with eclectic furniture in soft fabrics, leathers and velvets.

Mark Tilly from B3 Designers said “We envisioned the Eatery kitchen and bar to be vibrant; both for passengers in transit, and in-house guests from both hotels who can take a glimpse into this F&B space from the corridors of their rooms, and also from the Terminal.

Fulfilling the various requirements of guests and travellers, the space needed to be flexible and somewhere that transitioned naturally from day into night.”

Complementing The Eatery is the new Sheraton Public Place, comprising the new Sheraton reception area and Community Table: an inviting brand signature table that anchors the space. This new public space is designed to make guests feel welcome, facilitate meetings or safely gather with friends and co-workers. Designed for creativity and productivity, the Community Table has built in wireless mobile charging and ergonomic seating, for guests to feel comfortable whilst at work. Several new Studios have also been created to suit different meeting types. These hi-tech multi-use spaces of varying sizes celebrate collaborative working in a professional setting.

Under the dual-brand concept, the hotels have a total of 1,012 rooms and suites, over nine floors and three buildings. Each hotel has its own lobby and reception area and its own Club Lounge - The Sheraton Club and M Club, to guarantee guests the respective brand experience and personal touch. The unrivaled MICE facilities across the hotel comprise a large conference area with a total of 58 meeting rooms (4,100 sqm meeting area) including the Congress Center for up to 1,200 participants.
